GOOD ROADS AND GOOD STREETS

A few suggestions, from one who has had practical experience on preparing streets and highways for the use and convenience of the traveling public, might not be out of place.

A street, or county road should never be worked at, or disturbed unless it is placed in a proper condition for the benefit of public conveyance. Very often the road overseer will take his helpers and walk over the road and, tamping in a little dirt here and there, leaving the road in a worse condition than it was before he wasted his time doing what he calls road building. What is worth doing at all, is worth well doing. A quarter of a mile of finished road, is worth more for the credit and convenience of any community than a mile of patched road. A road to be finished, should be higher in the center than on either side, so that it will form a water shed. Good ditches, or gutters should be left on either side of the road to carry off the surplus water.

In making a road never plow up, or disturb the center of the road, begin plowing half way from the center to the gutter, move this into the center with a grader then pulverize with harrow after which put on a heavy drag so as to make the surface smooth and compact as possible. When old "gray" strikes this kind of a road he will laugh, and the driver will whistle Dixie or Yankee Doodle.

What is true of county roads is even more so of the streets of a city, for they are constantly in use, and under the eye and observation of the public. A street well worked and properly graded gives tone and credit to the intelligence and progressive spirit of the citizens of the city. It is a deplorable fact that the street commissioner often plows a strip on each side of the street a certain distance from the center, like a farmer plowing his field, thus destroying the use of half the street until this dirt is removed. When moved into the center, it is often left there in a rough and uneven condition as a half plowed field. The horse groans when he sees it, and the driver sings, "Oh give me back the old, old street."

We would suggest to plow two furrows, beginning about half way from the center of the street to the curbing or gutter, then move these two furrows to the center, and so continue to plow and move two furrows, till the dirt is moved to or toward the center as far out as plowing is done. This will be easier on the team because the horses will have solid footing all the time, and the dirt being freshly plowed will move more easily. This will leave most of the street open for travel all the time work is being done. After the dirt is moved by the grader to the center, give it a thorough harrowing as far out as plowing has been done. Then put the drag (King drag) on it, which will level down all high places and fill up all low places, leaving a smooth compact surface, with the center higher than either side.

When this is done the travel will take to the center of the street. But if the dirt is left in the rough the travel will move on either side of the center. The outside wheels will soon cut a trough along which the water will flow cutting out a ditch, or make mud holes. If there were plenty of gravel, or crushed rock convenient to spread on top of the grade this would stop washing, and give greater durability and firmness to the street.

Mr. Snyder in an article published in the News, stated that he considers that Pontotoc county has as good rock for road building as can be found in any other state. We will say from observation that Pontotoc county has as good rock for road building and finishing as to be found in any state in the union. Jasper County, Missouri, around Joplin has as good roads as can be found anywhere in the United States. These roads are made from crushed flint left after the lead and zinc ore is separated from the rock at the concentrating mills. Pontotoc county has vast ledges of the same kind of flint rock. J. W.

Griffin Halstead to Be Tried.

Washington, D. C., May 31.—After having fought for nearly two years to escape trial, Griffin Halstead, son of the famous journalist, the late Murat Halstead, will be arraigned in the criminal court here next Monday to stand trial on a charge of embezzling funds of former customers of his brokerage house. The firm of Griffin Halstead and Co., failed in January, 1910. Several weeks later a complaint was made to the District Attorney by Hubert Kleinpeter, chauffeur for Mrs. Mark Hanna, that Halstead had wrongfully withheld 100 shares of New York, Ontario and Western railway stock. The stock represented Kleinpeter's savings of a lifetime. A warrant for the arrest of Halstead was issued and he was taken into court. He denied having wrongfully used the stock in question, and friends tried in vain to effect a settlement of the case. In October the Federal grand jury indicted the broker on charges of embezzlement, false pretenses, and larceny. Mr. Halstead filed a plea in abatement some months ago, claiming that his constitutional rights had been invaded when the United States attorney presented to the grand jury the books of Halstead's brokerage business, which were in the custody of a trustee in bankruptcy. The lower court sustained the contention, but on appeal the government obtained a reversal and the broker will now have to stand trial.

Furriers May Strike.

New York, May 31.—Here's where the long-suffering public has a chance to laugh. The price of coal has advanced and now it is learned that fur coats, muffs and neck pieces are likely to cost more, just as if any one cared—at the beginning of summer. The recent miners' strike boosted the price of coal and the same cause is expected to send the price of furs skyward. The 10,000 men and women employed in the manufacture of fur garments are dissatisfied with conditions as they exist and a general strike is threatened. The officers of the Furriers' International Union will meet in this city tomorrow to take a ballot on the ques of calling a general strike. The eight-hour work day, increases in wages averaging 25 per cent and recognition of the union, are the points involved.

LORIMER CASE WILL COME UP MONDAY

Washington, May 31.—The beginning of the end of William Lorimer's hard fight to retain a place in the United States Senate was today set for Monday next.

Senator Kern of Indiana today demanded early action in the Lorimer case. At his instance an agreement was reached by the senate this afternoon to take up the case immediately after the morning business is finished on Monday. Senator Kern will open the debate with a speech dealing particularly with the facts brought out by the investigation just ended. He is expected also to make a legal argument in order to dispose of the proposition of the Lorimer members of the committee that the case is res adjudicata.

Senator Kern will be followed by Senator Dillingham of Vermont, leader of the Lorimer cause who will defend the findings of the majority of the committee that Lorimer is innocent and Hines as clean as white-wash in a bucket. Senator Jones, Senator Johnston and Senator Fletcher, who also are members of the majority, will make speeches similar to that of Dillingham. Senator Lea of Tennessee will advocate the view that the minority conclusions against Lorimer are sound.

Several other Senators are expected to speak, including Senators Reed of Missouri and Mristow of Kansas. These Senators will oppose the retention of Lorimer in his seat.

Senator Lorimer telegraphed here today that he would be in Washington by Monday. It is still the hope of Vice President Sherman and others of Lorimer's friends in the senate that he can be induced to resign. Thus far Lorimer positively declined to consider this proposition. It is now the hope of the vice president and others of the standpatters that Lorimer will be content to make a speech declaring his innocence and at the end announce his voluntary retirement.

HAVE COMMISSIONERS POWER TO EXTEND TAX PERIOD

Oklahoma City, May 31.—Just what will be the result of the action of boards of county commissioners in at least three counties in the state which have authorized an extension of the time for payment of the last half of taxes, is a question that may become of vital importance to the taxpayers of the counties. It may be that the next legislature will have to provide some means by which such action may be legalized and save the taxpayers affected from the penalty that is sure to accrue.

In Kingfisher county the commissioners extended the time until August 1. In Jackson county the commissioners extended the time until September 1, and in Comanche county it has been extended to October 1. According to the law the last half of taxes become delinquent June 15. This is final. The first half become due about thirty days after the rolls are perfected, but no penalty attaches until the last half is due on June 15, when the 18 per cent is added.

According to Hugh Gerner, assistant state examiner and inspector, there is no law authorizing the county commissioners to extend the time for the payment of taxes, and especially when the last half falls due. They cannot prevent the penalty from accumulating and it will accumulate and the taxpayer be liable for it until his taxes are paid. When the commissioners extend the time for the payment of the last half the taxpayer would naturally suppose he would be exempt from the penalty, at least for a portion of the time, if not all of it. This Mr. Gerner holds could not be done except by the legislature.

The reasons given for the extension made by the commissioners of the different counties, while legitimate, could not be taken as sufficient from a legal standpoint and there is no way their action could be of any protection of the taxpayers unless some special dispensation is made by the next legislature.

PARIS CELEBRATES VISIT OF QUEEN

Paris, May 31.—Queen Wilhelmina, of the Netherlands, accompanied by the Prince consort, will arrive in Paris tomorrow for a three days' official visit. Elaborate preparations have been completed for the reception and entertainment of the royal visitors. The coming of the Dutch queen has aroused extraordinary interest among the Parisians, which is scarcely to be wondered at in view of the fact that Wilhelmina will be the first queen in her own right to be received in Paris since Queen Victoria's last official visit here nearly half a century ago.

The city is already donning gala attire in anticipation of the queen's arrival. The Place de l'Opera and the boulevards have been lined with huge columns bearing the arms of the Netherlands and of the City of Paris. In devising the scheme of decoration the municipal authorities concluded that, while mere flags and bunting might be good enough for a king, a more delicate tribute should be paid to a queen. Consequently it was decided that the street decorations should consist as much as possible of flowers, as being more suitable to a woman sovereign. Especially in the Avenue du Bois de Boulogne and the Champs Elysee, through which the royal visitors are to be escorted on their arrival in the city, the street decorations are strikingly beautiful, with red, white and blue flowers, symbolizing the colors of the Netherlands.

The royal couple will be quartered in the D'Orsay Palace. The entertainment program includes a gala performance at the opera, visits to St. Cyr and Versailles, a state banquet and a floral festival in the Bois de Boulogne. The young queen has especially insisted on a military review and military manoeuvres, and these will take place at Satory camp, near Versailles, where a sort of conning tower has been specially built, whence her majesty will be able to follow all the operations.

As It Was In the Time of Moses"

This great subject consists of motion pictures of the methods of tilling the soil, making straw brick, and making cloth as pursued by the Arabs of the Upper Nile Valley. It may seem a misnomer to say in connection with this picture "As It Was in the Time of Moses," yet it is true that the processes pictured are identical with those mentioned in the Bible, in fact, it may be said that the beginning of these quaint methods dates back thousands of years before the time of Moses. This picture is of absorbing interest, and was made by the Kalem Co., in Egypt, and is correct in every detail.

This evening the Majestic, among other excellent features, offers a picture showing life in Egypt. It was made on the spot and shows the life of people of that country just as it has been existing for thousands of years. Egypt has advanced none since the days of Moses, and in this picture one can see life depicted just as it was in the days of the great Hebrew lawgiver. Pictures of this kind have a great educational value, and one can learn much more than by merely reading the books of returned travelers.

MUSICIANS HOLDING CONVENTION AT ADA

The State Musical Convention convened at the normal this afternoon, and although the attendance was not as large at the opening as had been hoped for, it is known that a number of others will arrive this afternoon and Saturday. The program will be carried out as published in the News two days ago.

The afternoon session was devoted to chorus work and to the business of the organization.

The Eureka normal school of music of Stigler is represented by Profs. Gregory, Coleman brothers, Oslin, Kyne, Beaman, Slater, Maddox and Hughes. Visiting members, E. H. Shelton of Fredrick, a well known musician of Oklahoma and secretary of the state singing convention and Milton Garner, representing the Trio Music Co., of Waco, Texas. Mr. Garner is well known not only to a large circle of acquaintances and friends in this section, but is also favorably known in other parts of the state.

Another session will be held this evening, and all day tomorrow and through Sunday. Everybody invited to attend.

It is Intended to Show Every Building in London—Is 580 Feet Square.

London.—If all goes well and there are no serious delays, three or four years hence the London county council will have completed what it is believed will be the most wonderful map in the whole world. Seventeen years have already been consumed in its preparation and $85,000 has been expended on research and labor connected with it. A further expenditure of about $25,000 is looked forward to with equanimity by the authorities.

The great map will really constitute a twentieth-century London edition of England's famous Domesday Book. For it will show practically every building in the 116 square miles that go to make up greater London, setting forth, as far as possible, the most important owners.

It has often been said that London was owned by a few great landlords, such as the Duke of Westminster, Lord Howard de Walden, Lord Cadogan, the Duke of Bedford and the Duke of Norfolk. That is, of course, true in a general way, but this map shows that there are no fewer than 38,600 private owners who each possess enough property to make a notable showing on its face.

The map will not be issued to the public, but is really being prepared for the use of the county council itself. It is being drawn to the scale of five square feet to the square mile, so that the completed map, which, of course, will be made in sections, will measure 580 feet by 580 feet, or 1-82d of a square mile in area.

FATHER WAS WIFE'S ADMIRER

Son Attacks and Beats Parent Who Comes to Visit Him After Fifteen Years of Separation.

San Bernardino, Cal.—When Oscar Johnson was about to enter his home he saw a stranger embracing his wife. The husband seized a brick, rushed into the house and struck the stranger such a tremendous blow on the head that he was knocked unconscious and may have suffered a fractured skull.

Then Johnson investigated and found that the unconscious man was his own father, O. W. Johnson, of Peoria, Ill., whom he had not seen for fifteen years, and who had come here to surprise his son with a visit.

When Mrs. Johnson saw her husband strike his father she went into hysterics and became threatened with complete nervous breakdown. She declared she would seek a divorce from a husband whose jealousy was so unreasonable and whose suspicions were so unfounded.

Johnson said he would take a second look before he leaped again, and sought a physician, who probably will attend both the wife and father for some time.

BUILDING A PIGEON ASYLUM

Col. John T. MacAuley of Louisville, Ky., Starts Something New in Philanthropy.

Louisville, Ky.—This city boasts what is perhaps the first asylum for homeless pigeons in the country. The philanthropy is the idea of Col. John T. MacAuley, veteran theatrical manager, who has built the hospital on the cottage plan, capable of accommodating thousands of birds, in the rear of his theater in the heart of the business district. Destruction of numerous landmarks recently, incident to an extension of the retail and office district, has distributed the ancestral homes of legions of downtown pigeons and their bewildered flights in search of new habitation attracted the benevolent eye of Col. MacAuley, who immediately set carpenters at work on the asylum.

DIG UP $3,000 ON FARM

Heirs of Eastern Woman Dying at 97 Act on Sealed Instructions.

Allentown, Pa.—Instructions left in a sealed packet led the heirs of Miss Sallie Bennhoff of this city, who died two weeks ago, to dig up the ground of her two farms near Lynn, at places minutely described, where they have unearthed over $3,000 in gold and bank notes, which she had buried. The finding of the money solved the mystery of a strange light which neighbors had often seen in the meadows of the woman at night.

Miss Bennhoff, who was 97 years old, left about $50,000 in farms and securities to her nieces and nephews.

SET KING TREE IN NEW YORK

Park Authorities Replace Royal English Oak Planted by Edward VII.

New York.—A royal English oak tree has been set in Central park as the official successor of one planted by the late king Edward VII. when he visited the United States in 1890. The king's tree died in 1908 after a twenty years' attempt by the park authorities to nurse it out of persistent ill health. The new tree is a perfect specimen about 15 years old and destined to become one of the largest and most perfectly formed trees in the park. Its location is within a stone's throw of a white oak set out by Washington Irving.

OPENED WEST POINT IN 1892.

The Academy was located on the Hudson for Military Reasons.

Mrs. C. R. Miller in Leslie's Weekly. The selection of West Point as the place for the national military academy was due to its advantages from a military viewpoint, for its rugged beauty and its severe climate were calculated to be beneficial in the foundation of that sort of character so essential to a successful officer. The academy was formally opened July 4, 1892, with ten cadets and five officers as instructors. Its success is said to be due to the administrative ability of General Sylvanus Thayer, who became its superintendent in 1817 and served as such for sixteen years. This officer is known as the Father of West Point. Since the opening of the academy, including the class of 1911, more than five thousand officers have been graduated.

A cadet's education costs the government about $3,500. All cadets are on the same footing. The pay of a cadet is $600 a year and one ration per day, or commutation thereof at thirty cents a day. The total is about $709.50, to commence with his admission to the academy. Immediately after his admission, the young man must spend about $160 for uniforms. After the graduation the cadet is eligible to the rank of second lieutenant and is appointed to whatever branch of the service his record entitles him. Those who are highest in class honors are generally appointed to the engineer corps.

An act of congress authorizing the expenditure of $5,500,000 for the construction of the United States Military Academy was passed in June, 1908, and at a later session of congress $1,700,000 additional was allowed.

FARMERS INSTITUTE WILL MEET JUNE 19

To the Secretaries of Commercial Clubs:

Dear Sir: The president of the State Board of Agriculture, Hon. G. T. Bryan, has fixed the date for the next annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute of Pontotoc County on June 19, 1912. The meeting will be held at Ada beginning the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Since the annual elections of the entire state are to be held on that date it will be impossible for this office to furnish any speakers but we are asking that the citizens of the different towns take the matter up and help to make the meeting a success.

There will be a full set of officers to elect, also a delegate to the annual meeting to be held at Stillwater, in August.

The Farmers' Institute is an organization for the dissemination of the knowledge pertaining to better forms of agriculture and from time to time lecturers are sent out from this office and discuss with the farmers of the state the advisability of better seed selection, rotation of crops, proper methods of soil culture, raising of better poultry and live stock, and many other subjects of equal importance to the farmers of the different communities.

We will appreciate any assistance you can give the institute through your sympathy and co-operation and shall be glad at all times to assist you in any work that will tend toward the development of better agriculture in your community.

Very truly yours,

OKLAHOMA STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE, Farmers' Institute Department.
